

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR THE OPENING OF AN INTERNATIONAL SELECTION TENDER PROCEDURE FOR PhD HIRING
PURSUANT UNDER DECREE-LAW NO. 57/ 2016 OF 29 AUGUST

Internal Reference: POCI-01-0145-FEDER-028761

1. Framework

The Rector of Universidade Católica Portuguesa, Prof. Isabel Capelo Gil deliberated the opening of an international selection tender for vacancy of PhD Researcher to perform, in an exclusive dedication, the exercise of scientific research activities, in the scientific area of Microbiology to be developed in the CBQF - Centre of Biotechnology and Fine Chemistry located at the Faculty of Biotechnology of the Catholic University of Portugal (ESB), at Porto under the project “PHYTOENERGY : Análise do potencial de valorização energético de biomassa resultante de aplicações de fitorremediação de solos contaminados”. It is financed by Operational Program for Competitiveness and Internationalization, in its FEDER component, and the Foundation for Science and Technology, in its State Budget component (OE).

This project will run until Jun 06, 2021, has as its main objective the energy recovery from biomass derived from the phytoremediation of soils contaminated with heavy metals, namely for the production of oils, bioethanol, biodiesel and biogas. The work involves the cultivation of selected energy crops in polluted soils, the monitoring of their growth and subsequent optimization of the application of the resulting biomass for extraction of oils, fermentation to bioethanol and transesterification of the products obtained to obtain biodiesel. Anaerobic digestion of the resulting biomass is also foreseen, as well as of the residues produced along the remaining processes tested..

2. Applicable Legislation

Decree-Law no. 57/2016 of 29 August, modified by Law n. 57/2017, of 19 July which approved the doctorate hiring regime to stimulate scientific and technological employment for all knowledge areas (RJEC) without prejudice to the specific regulations applicable to the Universidade Católica Portuguesa.

3. Workplace

The workplace is located in the facilities of the Universidade Católica Portuguesa, in Porto.

4. Remuneration

Gross monthly remuneration to be paid is 2128,34€ plus meal allowance. To these amounts are added annual holiday and Christmas allowances.

5. Admission requirements

Applicants may be national, foreigners and stateless candidates who hold a PhD in Microbiology or Biotechnology, with experience in the optimization of biologically based energy production procedures, namely anaerobic digestion and/or fermentation.

Candidates must hold a scientific and professional curriculum whose profile is suited for the activity to be performed. If the PhD has been awarded by a non-Portuguese higher education institution, it must comply with the provisions of the Portuguese law on registration/recognition of foreign degrees, for this purpose, the one described in point 11 of this Notice must be considered.

6. Selection process

The selection process should comply with Article 5 of the RJEC.

7. Evaluation process

Evaluation criteria are scientific production and its relevance, participation in scientific projects and congresses, student orientation, scientific dissemination actions, transfer of knowledge and other relevant activities and experiences. The evaluation process includes an interview with the candidates.

The final classification system of the candidates is expressed from 0 to 100. The value is calculated always taking into account that for each item only the relevant activity will be considered for the area of the competition, weighing each factor as follows:

1. Scientific and curricular course (CP):

- a) Scientific and technological production: 80%;
- b) Applied or practice-based research activities: 15%;
- c) Extension and dissemination activities: 5%;
- d) Interview (E).

An interview will be held for candidates who are ranked in the first three positions, which is intended to clarify aspects related to the results of their research. Applicants are asked to make a 10 minute presentation using a digital file in the "PowerPoint", in which they exemplify the contributions to this parameter.

Applicants who are interviewed will be assigned a new classification in addition to the initial one that will be based on the following formula:

$$\text{Final grade} = 90\% \text{ CP} + 10\% \text{ E}$$

8. Composition of the Jury

Pursuant to article 13 of RJEC the jury of the contest has the following composition: President of the Jury: Doutora Ana Marques; other members: Prof.^a Doutora Paula Castro, Prof.^a Doutora Manuela Pintado.

9. Deliberation

The jury deliberates by means of nominal votes based on the selection criteria adopted and published with abstentions not allowed. Jury meeting minutes are drawn up, containing a summary of what was discussed, as well as the votes cast by each of the members and respective substantiation. After completing the application of the selection criteria, the jury prepares the ranked list of successful candidates with the respective classification. The jury's final decision is approved by the maximum responsible of the institution who is also in charge of deciding about the hiring.

The ranked list of approved candidates will be posted at the facilities of Universidade Católica Portuguesa at Porto, located at Rua Arquiteto Lobão Vital, N.º 172, 4200-374 Porto and advertised on the website <http://www.esb.ucp.pt>. Candidates are advised by email of the availability of this list.

10. Prior Hearing and deadline for the Final Decision

After reporting the results, the candidates have 10 working days to issue a decision. The final decision of the selection board shall be given within the next 5 working days, after the candidates' deadline.
